Learn how we transform schools

EXPERIENCE

Founded in 2001 and based in Chicago, AUSL manages the largest network of public turnaround schools in the country and is the nation's leading model for fundamental change focused on the lowest performing schools.

AUSL currently manages 32 schools in Chicago, serving more than 18,000 students pre-K through 12th grade. Annual AUSL student achievement growth on Illinois state tests has outpaced the Chicago Public Schools district growth every year since 2008.

Education leaders from across the nation and the world have studied our model, and we believe that districts beyond Chicago could improve the achievement of their lowest performing schools by undertaking an approach similar to AUSL's, or by incorporating elements of our model into their own work.

EXPERTISE

AUSL Institute offers expertise in three key areas:

Turnaround and transformation of low-performing urban schools

Teacher residency training to create a pipeline of talent for school transformation

Teacher development process to increase teaching proficiency, job satisfaction, and student achievement
